4.2.2 Institution has remote access to library resources which students and teachers use frequently
Response:

The library of DGET's College of Education is enriched with many textbooks, reference books, and journals, as well as magazines. Students are oriented toward the library collection during their semester orientations. Students visit the library for the issue of books regularly. There is a separate computer kept for them to browse the library resources through OPAC. The library also has an open-access system for students. This way, they demand their desired book. But sometimes they are unable to come to the library physically; so, for their convenience, the library has uploaded details of its collection on the college website. Full bibliographical details of the books have been given on the website. Students can access these details remotely and browse through the collection of our college library. In addition to this, a list of General books, reference books, and periodicals and magazines have also been uploaded for students' reference.
