CHAIRPERSON AND EDITOR-IN-CHIEF'S MESSAGE

'It's good to fall and fail, that's how we learn to sail. It's only at our low, what/who matters, we get to know...'

Our progressive institution not only emphasis on the holistic development of students but also inspire them to be a lifelong learner, as learning is an asset which will accompany the owner everywhere. The recent pandemic that has brought a paradigm shift in teaching learning process has proved that learning is indeed a dynamic process. It has taught us how very little We truly need, how much we already have and the value of connection with Man and Nature. We need to adapt ourselves to the changing world and more importantly we need to be the change that we desire to see in the world. Needless to say, Education is the key factor in shaping the budding youth.

With Best wishes....

DAY 1, SESSION 1

Session 1: "One Classroom, Many Learners: VARK, Themes & Inclusion"

Dr. Apoorva Panshikar enlightened us on the importance of understanding diverse learning styles— Visual, Auditory, Read/Write, and Kinesthetic (VARK). She beautifully emphasized that "Every student can learn, just not on the same day or in the same way." Her session reinforced the need to design classrooms that celebrate inclusion and adaptability, ensuring that no learner is left behind.

DAY 1, SESSION 2

Session 2: "Teaching That Cares: Holistic Lesson Design for Every Learner"

Dr. Arpeeta Bhatia took us on an inspiring journey of compassionate and holistic lesson planning. She reminded us that education is not just about covering the syllabus but about uncovering the potential in every child. As Aristotle said, "Educating the mind without educating the heart is no education at all." This session gave us practical strategies to design lessons that foster empathy, curiosity, and deeper understanding.

DAY 1, SESSION 3

Session 3: "Catering to the Multilingual Classroom"

Mr. Ketan Kamble shed light on the beauty and challenges of multilingual education, emphasizing that language should be a bridge, not a barrier. He shared powerful techniques to create inclusive, culturally responsive classrooms where every student feels heard and valued. His session reinforced the essence of NEP 2020's vision—that learning in one's home language can be a game-changer in cognitive and emotional development.

DAY 2, SESSION 1

Session 1: "Assess to Progress: HPC & Growth-Oriented Feedback"

Dr. Nikita Kothari gave us a refreshing perspective on assessment—not as a tool for judgment but as a means for progress. She introduced us to the Holistic Progress Card (HPC), emphasizing that assessments should empower, not discourage, learners. Her session resonated deeply with the idea that "Feedback is the breakfast of champions,"—highlighting the importance of constructive, growth-oriented evaluation methods that nurture skills, creativity, and emotional intelligence.

DAY 2, SESSION 2

Session 2: "Digital Pedagogy - The Future of Learning"

Dr. K. Thiyagu took us on a futuristic journey into the world of digital pedagogy, ed-tech tools, and tech-driven classrooms. He showed us how to integrate technology seamlessly into teaching, making learning interactive, immersive, and student-centric. As Bill Gates once said, "Technology is just a tool. In terms of getting the kids working together and motivating them, the teacher is the most important." This session reminded us that while digital tools are powerful, it is the teacher who truly brings learning to life!

DAY 2, SESSION 3

Session 3: "The Symphony of Learning: Art as a Catalyst for Education"

Dr. Hemali Joshi left us mesmerized with her passionate insights on art-integrated learning. She showed us how creativity, music, and visual arts can make lessons more engaging, expressive, and impactful. Her session was a beautiful reminder that "Art is not a subject; it is a way of thinking". She encouraged us to break the monotony of traditional teaching and embrace art as a powerful medium for deeper understanding and joyful learning.
